

Music & Lyrics is as much about the hearing of music as it is about the science of breath and the space between sounds, in the recess of harmony, veiled by a lasting resonance of fading noise, our imagination takes on new forms instinctually. All the images are supposed to at least appear onomatopoeic, and at most, act as a kind of sonic Rorschach test, where image conducts subconscious music and sound in the viewer's mind.

Each sketch was made while listening to a different song.
